

Welcome to the third Erasmus+ ‘Continuous E-learning for Innovation in Tourism management’ Project Newsletter, where you can find information about our educational materials to be implement in your organisation; and the pilot testing through our E-learning Platform.

In what we have been working recently?

Pilot testing E-learning Events

One of the main goals of the end of the year 2020 of the Erasmus+ Continuous E-learning for Innovation in Tourism Management project, has been the pilot testing E-learning Events in all the partners countries.

We have given the opportunity to our students and experts to test one module or the whole course. This decision was completely up to them.

After they have finished the module(s), they have been be asked to fill an evaluation form, so we could improve thanks to their feedback and opinions.

More than 10 professionals working in the field of tourism and 20 students with low-skilled and low-qualified in each country (Spain, Sweden, Bulgaria, Finland and Italy).

They have only registered in our portal:

- Go to www.cel4itm.eu/learning-material.
- Select a module.
- Go through the material.
- Take the test at the end of the module.
- And finally get the certificate which has been emailed to them.

This is an ERASMUS+ project, which will be delivered between October 2018 and September 2020.

Online Conference (Bulgaria)

On the 13th November 2020 we made an online networking event under the project: CEL4ITM: Continuous e-learning for Innovation in Tourism Management project, Erasmus+ Strategic Partnership 2018-1-ES01-KA204-050711!

The topics discussed in the conference were:

- CEL4ITM: aims, Goals, Introduction of the partners, Presentation of the web platform, Results; Integration of the project results in the partners' activities; Sustainable embedding of the project results and products into partner communities; Opportunities for future exploitation of the results

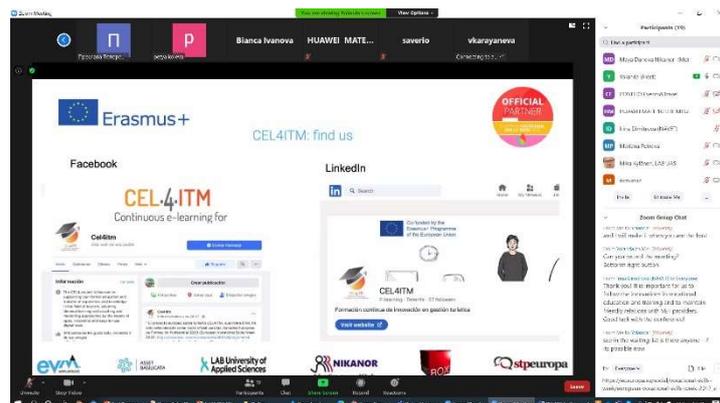

We had prepared interesting presentations:

- Reservation systems and how travel agencies work in COVID 19
- Mentoring in the tourism sector
- Tourism management in the Canary Islands

On the conference we had 23 participants from the target group of the project. Our official guest which attended were from National agency for vocational education and training – NAVET Bulgaria

We're glad to announce that the feedback from the participants shows that speakers were effective and available for any question or clarification, the usefulness of the conference is as high as we expected, the environment was appropriated, and the quality of the materials is satisfying.
